

Larry Holcombe/Daily Globe
Mike Keating, of the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency, right, and Gordon Springberg, of the Daily Globe, move a load of cardboard from a GOCAA vehicle to a trailer of recyclables. The GOCAA vehicle, a former bus, was filled with broken-down boxes from the agency's monthly and quarterly commodity distributions. Lorraine Perotti, of GOCAA, said commodity distributions reach more than 800 seniors each month and another 1,200 family members. For more information on the distributions, contact GOCAA at 906-667-0283. The Daily Globe accepts cardboard and paper for recycling during business hours. For more information on the recycling, call the Globe at 906-932-2211.